

Privacy Policy

Makhal POS is an easy-to-use POS and inventory management system designed for any business. Whether you're a retail, a restaurant, or a service business, you'll have all the features you need to run your business at your fingertips.

Data privacy and security

Makhal will not share your personal or business information with any third party except with your consent.

Merchant registration

As a merchant, you should contact a Makhal representative to obtain login credentials to access the app.

Customer registration

As a customer user, your merchant will register you as a customer, and then you can log in with your phone number in the app.

Users Terms

Customer

Do not send money directly to the seller if you are not sure and have not already done business with them. Makhal is not responsible if you send money directly to unverified sellers. Verified sellers have a verified app domain from Makhal on their profile, so if you are not sure, please contact Makhal Support™ before you send money to the seller or vendor.

Merchant

As a merchant, Makhal expects you to maintain good ethics and proper use of the application. You will manage your customers and be responsible for transactions and orders. If you use the general Makhal payment method, you will sign a separate agreement with Makhal.